Educate Me: Size Matters

SIZE MATTERS

WHICH SIZE MATTRESS IS RIGHT FOR YOU?

Single

Same thing as a Twin size (38" by 74") mattress. These are quite common in vacation homes, kids' rooms and as daybeds. A Single size mattress works well in a tiny room.

Single Long

The Single Long mattress measures 38" by 80". We carry it, but in limited selection as it is somewhat uncommon.

3/4

This size mattress is available in limited selection as it too is somewhat uncommon. It measures 47" by 74". This mattress would fit an antique bed, or an option for a studio apartment.

Double

Double and Full size are the same. It's a good choice for a child's room giving them room to grow and saving you money in replacement costs down the road. Keep in mind, Double mattresses can often be too short in length (53" by 74") for the average adult male.

Queen

Are among the most common for couples or sprawling sleepers. The standard Queen size mattress is 60" by 80" and offers a little more width over the Double size. Queens are perfect for smaller primary bedrooms, for second bedrooms, teens and couples who enjoy sleeping closer together.

King

A standard King mattress is also referred to as a Western King, measures 76" by 80" and offers couples the maximum amount of sleeping space. If you have a large bedroom and enjoy the feel of luxurious space when you sleep, this is the size to think about.

California King

A Cal-King size mattresses offers four inches more length, with less width than a Western or standard size King. It measures 72" by 84".

Now you have the 411 on mattress sizes. Which size is right for you?
